Walking Paradise Tenerife

WILD ATLANTIC, SUNNY COASTS AND VOLCANIC STONES.

Not all islands are the same. Every island in the Canary Islands has its very own character, and you can experience this while island hiking on Tenerife. The largest island in the Canaries is a popular destination for hiking holidaymakers – and almost the whole year round! From the beginning of February until December the mild climate on the Atlantic allows for wonderful hiking adventures. The stable weather conditions are also what gives the island its distinctive appearance. With Eurohike you can hike from the green Northwest of Tenerife to the southern countryside through rugged coastlines and past dreamy mountain villages. Eight days of pure mountain enjoyment in the middle of the Atlantic!

Details of the hiking tour on Tenerife

The Teno Mountains, the Masca Gorge, Mount Teide or the idyllic coastal town of Garachico: no highlight in the north of Tenerife will escape you during the hiking week with Eurohike. Hiking on an island is always a very special experience, and this hiking trip combines mountain and coastal hikes. So you can enjoy not only the hilly landscape of Tenerife, but also the deep blue Atlantic.

Highlights of the hiking tour on Tenerife at a glance:

- Imposing contrasts: In Tenerife contrasts come together. On the one hand, there are the black lava beaches and the white lunar landscape. Or the numerous hours of sunshine and the snow-covered Teide.
- Spain's highest mountain: The Pico del Teide is the highest peak in the Canaries, and also Spain. From the Teide National Park you have a magnificent view of the snow topped mountain.
- Masca Gorge: One of the hikes takes you directly through the Masca gorge, which is only 30 metres wide at its narrowest point and has walls of 600 metres at their highest. A unique experience!

Note: The hike through the Masca gorge is not possible at the moment, instead you will find the optional hike on the Kings Path from Santiago del Teide to Los Gigantes on this day (the boat trip on this day is omitted).

Useful information about island hiking on Tenerife

Cooling down in the lava swimming pool of the coastal town of Garachico kicks off your week of hiking on Tenerife. Over eight days you explore the island and its valleys, coasts and charming villages. The challenging daily hikes are between ten and 15 kilometres long and can be very demanding in places. As some of the hikes lead along relatively steep paths and trails, a solid basic level of fitness is necessary to enjoy the week. On the boat trip from Playa de Masca to Los Gigantes you can enjoy the view of Tenerife from the sea. Planning your first trip to Tenerife? You can rely on Eurohike's extensive travel and route material, which will be sent to you before you start your trip.

Itinerary

DAY
1

Arrival at Garachico

Garachico is located on the roaring Atlantic coast in the north-west of Tenerife. The old part of town boasts beautiful mansions, churches and the 'Castillo San Miguel'. The volcanic rock pools invite to a refreshing plunge.

Hotel (example): La Quinta Roja

2

Circular Walk Garachico, Coastal Views

You hike through the very recent volcanic area of Garachico along historic paths. The strenuous ascent to the Ermita de San Francisco is rewarded with a stunning view onto the town situated below, but first and foremost onto the Atlantic Ocean and the entire northern coastline. After a short break in San Juan del Reparo you descend across the fertile landscape past colourful flowers, cactee and agaves back to the sea again.

4*Circular Walk Teno-Mountain Range, Green Uplands*

Enjoy panoramic views on your transfer through terraced cultivated areas, while passing grazing herds of goats, to the magical Teno-mountain range. Initially the route takes you up to a mountain ridge from where you can enjoy a marvellous panoramic view. Then you proceed along the ridge over to the Tabaiba pass and onwards on a stunning high altitude path. From here you have an extraordinary view onto the western coastline and the mighty Masca-gorge with its black rocks. Passing the two Gala-Peaks, you return to Santiago del Teide.

Circular Walk Vilaflor, White Lunarscape

On today's tour you experience yet another one of Tenerife's unique landscapes. You walk up to a viewpoint located at over 1800m in altitude just below Mount Teide, from where you can spot the 'white lunarscape'. Let your imagination go wild whilst watching these bizarre sand stone formations on the slopes created by wind, water and the weather. An amazing contrast compared to the black volcanic rock of the past few days.
